TRAFFIC CHANGES FOR RIVER ROAD BRIDGES IN CONWAY

The New Hampshire Department of Transportation announces traffic pattern changes at two River Road Bridges in Conway.

Repair work at the River Road Bridge over the Saco River Overflow, which began in September, will be suspended on Thursday, December 2, or Friday, December 3, weather permitting, until spring. Two-way traffic will resume on the bridge with the suspension of work.

Repairs are also scheduled to begin on the River Road Bridge over Lovejoy Brook on Tuesday, December 7. This work, which is expected to take three months to complete, will require single lane alternating traffic controlled by temporary traffic signals.
